LLA Award of Excellence

Literacy Green Bay is a non-profit organization in downtown Green Bay, Wisconsin. The organization has helped many foreign immigrants establish their place in the United States of America. This non-profit organization had won many awards including the LLA award of Excellence in 2002.

Tori Rader accepted the LLA Award of Excellence for Outstanding Community Organization. The organization began in the 1980s and has since been improving annually. They have been recognized for many various awards throughout the years. Their most recent awards include, “Greater Green Bay Chamber of Commerce’s Special Accomplishments award in recognition of obstacles overcome to make the 2017 classroom renovation possible.”

Literacy Green Bay is a non-profit organization that is willing to help anyone that needs the help they provide. Many immigrants have acknowledged that they would not have integrated into the American culture seamlessly if it wasn’t for Literacy of Green Bay. Literacy of Green Bay is a non-profit organization that has helped anyone within the Green Bay community that needed assistance with the English language and culture. An organization like this is a privilege to have because the aid they provide is unmatched. It's an incredible opportunity for immigrants to have an organization like Literacy Green Bay to begin learning a new language and culture. The company originally began when immigrants were coming to the United States from the Vietnamese war.

"Literacy Green Bay's mission is to help adults and families acquire the reading, writing, math, English language, computer, and workforce skills they need to function effectively as workers and community members." I came to this country in 2003 and I couldn't talk, understand, read, to write. My experience can teach you that it's good, it's good and it's something nobody can take away from me. I can have a real life in this country and it's thanks to you" (referring to literacy Green Bay) -Gabriella, Literacy Green Bay student. Many other immigrants who are now students at Literacy Green Bay feel similarly to Gabriella. They are asked for the opportunity and grateful for what the program provides for them.
